Seraiki wasaib ich indirect Ggaalh dey zariay aprna muda biaan kararn da tariqa rehaa hay. Saddiaan di ghulami de nateejay ich, lambi GGAalh di Bajaey hik kahaarni bian keeti vendi rahee aey.
Aey hik qism de Mazahmti Shaaey aey. Eeinda matlab samjharn aalay samajh vaendin, jehray naien samjhaindey unhhaan di qismat.

Saddian pehley Iran dey Sa,adi Shirazi di Gulistan-e-Sa,adi ich vi danaaee tey mazahmat da eiho tariqa vartia Gia haa.

It would be better if the title of the latest story is included in brackets with the heading 'Aj Di Gaal' on main page.
For Example:

Aj Di Gaal (Alawaunr Sir Ghulawunr)

Again, please write that title with "Aj Di GGaal" where it is advertised.
When someone sees every day different title on the main page, he would be attracted to open it to see detail.

What I asked to make on main page (where there is link to read "Aj Di GGaal", you did the same on detailed page.

But you have the right to decline my request when you feel it not convincing.

Best Regards- G. Raza

Dear G Raza ,

Users feed back is very important as it enables us to know the ways which makes it easier for members to browse the website. So keep informing us about what should be done to make website more user friendly.

Meharbani Qibla,

But the two headings with some repetition look awkward. I want the first heading to be removed. And if you want the reader to access the full archive then give that link somewhere else may be at the page with full description of the latest AJ Di GGaal.

And I am very hard critic, please dont mind.

One thing more is that when one logs in Wasaib.com then Hi, is dispalyed with the logger's name. I suggest that "Ji AAie" (Jim,ChotiYe Alifmad,Hamza,WadiYe) should be displayed in seraiki script bracketed with roman script instead of Hi. That is typical of Seraiki Culture.

Best Regards- G. Raza

Dear Gee Raza,

You are right. Now there are two links Ajj di Gaalh (NEW) and (Archive).I think you meant that.

Have you ever heard of father-land or father-language, instead of motherland and mother language.
