Sare wasaib koon Salam!

Please go on follwing link:

<http://www.omniglot.com/writing/siraiki.htm>

Here the listing of Seraiki alphabets is not correct and the sample text in Seraiki is in fact in Urdu. And the important sites of seraiki like wasaib.com are not included in the links.

Can someone has reach to makeup for these deficiencies on the said link and put correct information on wasaib.com.

Best Regards- G. Raza

Hi,

Thanks for pointing out. I have just sent an email to Simon Ager, the author of this site.

Thanks

Hi everyone,

Simon has been kind enough to make the changes. He has already changed the script and added a link to our site and he has requested to specify what additional changes are required.

If someone can volunteer to do a short write up on Seraiki and make the alphabet file in the existing format, we will request him to update the page once more.

Thanks
