Absolutely Right....because the women of southern punjab are not powerful as they should be....n Political parties know that women of this region will not raise their voice strongly. In previous government, mostly those women got ministries, who have strong political background like Hina Rabani kher n Sumaira Malik etc. this is the right time....people n specially women of Southern Punjab should think about their future.Education can make them more n more powerful n after that their achievements in professional life...
