
How to get in contact with our Saraikis overseas

Posted by kissingtheskies - 2007/10/20 21:00

Dear Friends,

Currently i m living in London and so happy rather astounded to see this website.Verily it is great effort to promote and to make aware us of the culture and language.But i do know most of my friends dont know online Saraiki resources or from where they can get it.Here in London lot of Saraiki friends live and what they need a platform to discuss and share their feelings.

And above all in what way we can do something constructive for the downtrodden and poverty stricken people.

I hope you will give valuable suggestions.

Dear Tariq,

Thanks for for appreciating our humble effort to promote the language and culture of our downtrodden Seraiki wasaib. There are nearly 900 Regd.users, including overseas Saraikis.It is a non commercial site. You can contribute in many ways: you can invite your friend using "Invite a Friend" button on homepage,Leave your posts in relevant section of "Forum",etc. There are many members in Europe and England.You can add your pic. in your profile. Send your suggestions in "Forum" and these will be readable to all user.

Dear Sarikies,

Its really a nice web site and I am really happy to found that like. I am living here in Geramny so far away from my own country as well as people. Now the meaning of own people and country as well as languag are totally different. Any way, If possible then can you people send me any more good sariki web site on my email address lord_kamran@hotmail.com

Hi Karan,

At the moment wasaib.com is the only representative web site of 50 million Seraikies living in Pakistan and any where else in the wold. Due to various reason we have een slow in putting material on the website. But slowly and gradually we will keep updating the contents and try to bring to our members what our is possible.
