Assalamu Alaikum!

Yes of course there should be separate font for Seraiki Language.

Someone also try to develop messenger where one can chat and send emails in sweet saraiki to his/her relatives because our language definitely can better present our emotions than anyother language.

Dear All,

I have some Saraiki/Seraiki fonts. How they look? Well I am sending a PDF file, you can see. these are samples of 5 fonts.

Two other fonts are also available on link bellow (you should download Open Type):

http://scripts.sil.org/cms/scripts/page.php?site_id=nrsi&item_id=ArabicFonts

If any one needs these fonts, he/she can ask me. method of installing font is available at:

<http://www.geocities.com/seraikitec/>

After installation, these fonts will work in "MS Office" {Word, Power Point, Exel etc} and in "Wasaib Notepad"

New Seraiki Font, Samples

Posted by riz - 2007/06/27 08:30

Dear all,

There are some complains that existing Seraiki fonts are not 1- bold enough, 2- they show numbers in Arabic not in Seraiki/Urdu. I created a font that solves these problem. it is readable in small size so good for publishing and for website. see it and give your comments. It is in final testing process and then will be released .

Posted by Gee Raza - 2007/06/29 09:25

3'1Ò H'3ì(©H° 3D'E!

Can anyone tell me about the 6th letter written on Wasaib Seraiki Editor advertisement. Are there 6 leeters in seraiki which are not used in Urdu?

I was thinking of only 5.

And the "Post new Topic" button has been vanished after changes.

Dear G.Raza,

The sixth letter in Wasaib Seraiki Editor is Noon Ghuna.It can be used in words Jung and Mung etc.There is a bug in it to be corrected.word in keyboard layout In Noon without a point.If put in in last of word,it is without point and if in middle of a word,a point sign appears on it.Then we have put Jazm on it.

Thanks for pointing out a bug.
